CLOSED THE MEETINGS

Doctor Tracy Pleased the People.

TWO SERVICES HELD YESTERDAY

Both Were Fairly Well Attended and Ample Repaid the Parties Present—"The Real Life or the Broken Chains" and the "National Curse" Discussed.

The services held yesterday afternoon by Doctor Tracy were not largely attended, but those who were present were well repaid. The lecture on the "Real Life or the Broken Chains," was not taken up, on account of the class of people present. The speaker took a text and preached an eloquent sermon. The effort was one of the best the doctor has yet delivered in the city, and was listened to with rapt attention.

In the evening the doctor chose for his subject "The National Curse," and services were opened by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," followed in prayer by J. C. McClain. The scripture lesson was then read, and the doctor said that "rum in the United States was killing 100,000 souls a year. Sin means first, weakness, second, decay, third, destruction. America is the home of the free. Is she ever to be ruined by her national sin, whatever it may be? I ask you what is her national sin, and you reply there are many sins in the country; but what is the national curse? Don't take my word for it, I'm fanatical on the subject. Take the unsuspected testimony of the judges of the country; ask the clergy, ask the public press, they are not fanatical. Ask the Mansfield News, and their unanimous answer would be the national sin is drunkenness, and the national curse strong drink. We're wedded to this evil. It's our pet sin. You mustn't say anything against it. This would not be a drunken nation today if it was not for the abominable license and tax system. From the time the nation began to license dram shops, drunkenness began to affect the masses. It makes a land of tramps, paupers, shame and crime. The estimate of calamities caused by it cannot be known. Can you live and not lift up your voice against it? Why have you the curse in this city? Because your city authorities have not true courage; dare not make them obey the laws on the statute books. There is no such a damnable system of financing in hell as there is here in Ohio or in the United States. Nine out of 10 people are slaves to this curse, and they never touch a drop. Every man who votes to license or tax it is a slave. You should vote to save this nation from legalizing herself to death. This rum traffic must stop or the country will perish. It is in the power of the ballot box to rid the nation of its national curse." After the lecture was finished, several beautiful pictures from the life of Christ were shown, and the services closed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Doctor Tracy left the city this morning for Alliance, where he will begin a series of meetings this evening.

The entertainment on Saturday night was a very delightful one. The singing of Sunday school songs by the children in the gallery was a feature. Doctor Tracy has a host of friends in East Liverpool. God will bless him.

A VARIETY

Of Calamities Befel the Skaters at the Island.

About 300 skaters enjoyed the ice between the island and the shore, Saturday evening. Miss Edie Allen, of Walnut street, fell on the ice and severely wrenched her ankle. One venturesome lad, while gliding over a frail sheet, broke through, but was quickly helped out by companions. He dried his dripping clothes at a convenient dwelling. A number of pairs of overshoes left on the bank by skaters were stolen by evil minded youths.

A CLOSE SHAVE.

The Pony Came Near Running Over a Small Boy.

A small boy who was coasting on West Market street Saturday afternoon, came near meeting with a serious accident. The lad had started down the hill on his sled when the pony whistled for the crossing at the foot of the hill. The sled was too close to the track to permit the boy to turn off, and pedestrians expected to see him ground to pieces, but the sled cleared the track not six inches in front of the engine.

A Letter Received From Mrs. W. E. Sloane.

A letter received from Mrs. W. E. Sloane was read at the Northside chapel yesterday afternoon. It states that Reverend and Mrs. Sloane are quite comfortable in their new home in Knoxville, Iowa, and are pleased with the treatment accorded them by the people of that community. The letter says the weather has been very rigorous lately, and the mercury has been as low as 15 degrees below zero.

FUNNY MISHAP.

Horse Backed Close to a Revolving Wheel. Dire Results.

A horse owned by Monroe Patterson was the victim of a peculiar accident Saturday. The animal was backed close to a revolving emory wheel, and its tail became tangled in the shafting. The result was at least astonishing to the equine. Several good sized tufts of hair were wrenched from its caudal appendage. At length the tail was disengaged, although its beauty was slightly marred.

SENT TO THE INFIRMARY.

The Trustees Disposed of William Whery This Morning.

The trustees this morning sent William Whery, aged 21, to the infirmary. The young man has been living on a shanty boat, and has had no one to care for him, and the trustees decided the best place for him was the infirmary. His case was mentioned in the News Review a few days since, as he is the party who was eking out an existence by robbing garbage barrels.

GOOD MEETINGS

Held Yesterday by the Christian Church.

The meetings of the Christian church held in the Young Men's Christian Association Auditorium yesterday were well attended. The sermon preached in the evening by Prof. O. S. Reed on the "Strength and Weakness of Protestantism" was a powerful one. The official board will meet this evening, and talk over plans whereby funds can be obtained for the building of a new church. The style and dimensions of the new place of worship will largely depend upon the liberality of the community.

THE NEW SECRETARY

Of the Y. M. C. A. Will Arrive Tomorrow.

W. H. Charles, of Utica, N. Y., the new secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, will arrive in the city tomorrow, and at once take charge of the local association. It is expected State Secretary Pierce will accompany him. The retiring secretary, Will Morris, has had several offers to again enter the association work, but will take a short rest before he decides what he will do. Arrangements for the formal opening of the association will be made as soon as possible.

CHURCH FOR CHESTER

Movement on Foot to Build a Sanctuary.

LAND HAS BEEN PROMISED

If Money Can Be Raised to Pay For a Building—Enthusiastic Church Goers Will Push the Project Along—If Established Will Be Methodist Episcopal.

Before next fall Chester may be able to point with pardonable pride to a new church.

A number of prominent residents are now discussing plans whereby funds can be raised to cover the expense of a sanctuary. Months ago Will Gardner promised to donate a plat of ground for a church if money could be procured to pay for the building. The project has been uppermost in the minds of many church going residents for some time, and now an endeavor will be made to put into practice their intentions.

For years religious gatherings have been held in the Chester school house, but a little more than a year since the directors decided that during the week the school should be used for educational purposes alone, but that services on Sunday could be continued. This decree greatly exercised the people, but they abided by it with becoming forbearance.

Prayer meetings were held regularly in dwellings, but the inconveniences of this manner of worship soon became apparent. The need of a church was keenly felt, and at last it was agreed that some method be adopted to bring about this result. The denominational character of the church will be Methodist Episcopal. It is proposed to construct a pretentious frame building, with ample accommodations for all who desire to attend. By summer it is believed enough money will be subscribed to justify those having the matter in charge to commence the construction of the church.

ENFORCE THE LAW

In Regard to Allowing Teams to Stand Unhitched.

There is not a day passes but the ordinance prohibiting teams from standing on the streets without being hitched is violated. Over half of the runaways are caused by this negligence, and the officers should see that the law is enforced. Saturday afternoon a team was left standing in the Diamond, and when a sleigh passed they started after it on the trot constantly getting faster. The young men in the sleigh heard the commotion, and looking around saw the team coming. It was impossible to get out of the way, and one of them jumping out succeeded in stopping the runaway.

A GOOD START.

The Fire Department Called Out This Morning.

The month of February bids fair to outrival last month in point of fire alarms if the beginning is any indication. This morning at 6:30 the department were called to the residence of Officer Bertele, Seventh street, by a chimney fire. They made unusually quick time to the scene, but the fire had been extinguished before they arrived.

A small fire occurred at noon today at the residence of W. E. Mercer, Sixth street. The department was called, but the fire had been extinguished with snow before it arrived.

TOO MUCH GAS

Came Near Setting the Episcopal Church on Fire.

There came near being a disastrous fire Saturday evening at St. Stephen's church. The gas came on during the night, and at 2 o'clock Reverend O'Meara was awakened by a man, who told him the church was on fire. There was smoke pouring from the windows, but when the door was opened it was seen nothing was on fire, although in another half hour the church would have been ablaze. The reverend hastily shut the gas off in the cellar, and the woodwork was permitted to cool.

TOY WEAPON

Not Harmless—Ball Through a Lad's Finger.

While handling an air gun the trigger went off and a buck shot crashed through the finger of Edward, the 14 year old son of James McGonigal, of Oak street. A ragged and painful wound was caused. A physician was called, and the injury dressed. Luckily the muzzle of the weapon was not pointing toward a vital spot when it was discharged.

Will Be Confirmed.

There is little doubt that William Moore, the new policeman appointed by Mayor Gilbert, will be confirmed at the next meeting of council. He is known to almost every member by the name of Henry instead of William, and it was because of this that so very few of the councilmen knew him when his name was read.

A GOOD MONTH.

Judge Young Issued 45 Marriage Licenses In January.

LISBON, Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Mrs. Maggie Orr, administratrix of the estate of Dr. Charles Orr, of Salem, has sued S. M. Burkholder, James and Lottie Ashman, and Allen, Kirkpatrick & Co., to recover judgment on a $400 promissory note. Its payment is secured by land in Salem.

Following are the marriage licenses issued today: Charles A. Geisz and Rosa Turner, East Liverpool; W. H. Purinton and Sophia Glenn, East Liverpool; Jesse Ritchie and Pearl Lawrence; John W. Crawford and Lizzie Hamilton. Forty-five marriage licenses were issued in January.

LIGHT PLANTS

Will Be Erected by Two Enterprising Firms.

Sebring Bros. contemplate adding an improvement to their pottery in the form of a small light plant. They believe by generating what electricity is necessary, the expense of lighting the entire factory can be greatly reduced. It is said several other firms are deliberating whether they could save money by installing plants in their factories.

A. S. Young is arranging to have a small dynamo put in his place of business. It will generate electricity and furnish light for the store.

THROUGH THE ICE.

The Wagon and Horse Had a Cold Bath.

A horse driven by Jasper Strauss and the wagon attached went through the ice on the river at the foot of Washington street. It required considerable tugging on the part of a strong team before the outfit was dragged out. The horse was unhurt, but the harness was torn in many places. Strauss jumped in time to avoid a cold bath. The horse and wagon is the property of W. A. Race.

A LARGE NUMBER

Of New Members Added to the West End Chapel.

Communion services were held at the West End chapel yesterday afternoon, and 30 new members were added to the church roll as a result of the revival services which are being held at the chapel. The evening meeting was largely attended, and a number of conversions resulted. The meetings will continue this week and interest is steadily increasing.

OHIO WON.

The Supreme Court Decided the Tax Cases.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—[Special.]—The supreme court today decided the Ohio tax cases in favor of the state. The legal battle has been hard fought, and the decision will put many thousands of dollars in the state treasury.

A Plain Drunk.

Officer Jennings late Saturday evening arrested a drunken man near the Diamond. He was given a ride in the patrol wagon. He answered to the name of G. B. Quick at the mayor's office, and gave his residence as Wells-ville. He was fined $6.75 and permitted to depart.

Wrapped in Wire.

This morning as a wire was laying on Fourth street a team drove across, and the wire wrapped around the legs of one of the horses and it began to kick. It required the united efforts of several people to untangle the animal.

Heavy Shipments.

Shipments of ware were unusually heavy at the freight depot today. The sudden influx of cases filled the platform, and the employees will be a tired lot when their labors are concluded this evening.

A Small Fight.

Two members of the high school indulged in a fist encounter Saturday afternoon on the ice at the island. They were separated before any damage was done, but are still vowing vengeance.

A Quiet Wedding.

Miss Lizzie Marsh, of Lisbon, and Mr. Erastus Phillips, of this city, were married Saturday evening by Rev. O. S. Reed. The happy couple will make their home in this city.

Destitution In Steubenville.

W. G. Warfield spent Sunday in Steubenville. He says the amount of destitution there is appalling, but that relief is coming.

READY TO FORECLOSE

Bondholders Will Have Charge of the Road.

PATIENTLY AWAITING AN ORDER

The East Liverpool and Wellsville to Be Sold—The Result of That Visit: Last Year. Nothing Official Given out, but the Story Is Known.

Unless all signs fail the East Liverpool and Wellsville electric line will, before many weeks, be sold by Sheriff Charley Gill.

It is known that the foreclosure proceedings, commenced a year ago, have advanced to that point where a decree has been agreed upon for the sale. The parties interested have come to an agreement upon the status of the liens, and all questions regarding them have been determined. The action was taken several weeks ago, but the matter has been kept as quiet as possible, the public knowing nothing of it until it leaked out a few days since. The road has not yet been advertised for sale, but it is understood that it will not be long until the proper publicity will be given the matter. In fact the order of sale is expected this week.

The sale is forced by the bondholders, who are represented by the Cleveland Title & Trust Co., whose attorneys are Squire, Sanders & Dempsey. They sent a man here to close the matter some time ago, but it was decided other work was yet to be done, and it was deferred. Interested parties now believe the order will come before the end of the week. It is generally understood the committee of bondholders, who came here from Portland last fall, reported the advisability of this move when they returned. No one ventures an opinion as to who will purchase the line when it is sold. The sale is to take place 60 days from the time of the order.

Handicapped.

The pump house is crippled, three employees being off duty on account of illness. This afternoon a water meter is being placed in the light plant, and tomorrow Superintendent Morley will remove a worn out fire plug at the East End pipe works, and replace it with a new one.

Wheeling In the Snow.

A number of East Liverpool people who were sleighing in the country north of the city yesterday were surprised when near Calcutta to see a wheelman riding along in the snow. He was making excellent time, and said it was the only way to ride.

Shot a Vicious Dog.

Felix Hulse appeared at city hall Saturday evening, accompanied by a big black dog of the mongrel species. He wanted it shot. Chief Johnson led the animal out and began pumping leaden messengers into its carcass. The dog died.

To the Holy Land.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas leave Feb. 13, on the steamer Columbia for the Holy Land, where they will spend at least two months. On the return trip one month will be spent in Europe.

Died In Pittsburg.

Harry Keye, well known here, died at his home in Pittsburg Saturday, the result of an attack of typhoid fever. John Harris, of this place, is attending the funeral, which takes place today.

Crippled a Car.

When car No. 3 was climbing the Franklin street hill this morning an armature was burned out, and the car rendered helpless. It was taken to the barn by Motorman Thomas' car.

Will Leave the City.

The towboat Smoky City, which has been tied up at the foot of Market street since the river closed, will make an attempt to reach Pittsburg. It is proposed to cut a channel through the ice.

Finished Today.

Engineer George and Superintendent McKeehan will finish locating the poles for the new lights today. The task of erecting the poles will be commenced in a few days.

Opposed to the Chinese.

Freddie Thompson called at the mayor's office today, and wanted the Second street Chinese arrested. He said the man had given his clothes to another party.

Ministerial Meeting.

The Upper Ohio Valley Ministerial association is in session in Steubenville today. The topic for discussion is "Church Discipline." Reverend Slater is the leader.

SPORTING NOTES.

What Is Happening Among the Fraternity.

Winnie Mercer has begun active training at the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium in order to get in condition by the opening of the base ball season.

Will Carey has signed a contract to play middle field for the Wheeling team. Bobby Cargo will play short for the same club.

Frank L. Trappe, formerly a member of the Four C racing team, is now in Syracuse and is one of the men who propels the famous sextet, the largest wheel in the world.

The managers of the Rovers will arrange a foot ball game for the latter part of this month. The minstrel performance will be given at the Grand the same evening.

THE RIVER CLOSED

Late Saturday Afternoon and Two Barges Were Sunk.

The river is frozen over, but the ice is thin in many places, and but few were foolhardy enough to cross. The natural bridge was formed late Saturday afternoon. About 4 o'clock the narrow channel closed at Jethro, and in a very short time the ice was solid for miles up the river. Immediately the river raised almost two feet. Two barges tied below the wharf and owned by Robert Moore were submerged, and went to the bottom. It is not thought they will be damaged to any great extent.

LIGHT PLANTS

Will Be Erected by Two Enterprising Firms.

Sebring Bros. contemplate adding an improvement to their pottery in the form of a small light plant. They believe by generating what electricity is necessary, the expense of lighting the entire factory can be greatly reduced. It is said several other firms are deliberating whether they could save money by installing plants in their factories.

A. S. Young is arranging to have a small dynamo put in his place of business. It will generate electricity and furnish light for the store.

The Wagon and Horse Had a Cold Bath.

A horse driven by Jasper Strauss and the wagon attached went through the ice on the river at the foot of Washington street. Strauss jumped in time to avoid a cold bath. The horse and wagon is the property of W. A. Race.

READY TO FORECLOSE

Bondholders Will Have Charge of the Road.

PATIENTLY AWAITING AN ORDER

The East Liverpool and Wellsville to Be Sold—The Result of That Visit Last Year. Nothing Official Given out, but the Story Is Known.

Unless all signs fail the East Liverpool and Wellsville electric line will, before many weeks, be sold by Sheriff Charley Gill.

It is known that the foreclosure proceedings, commenced a year ago, have advanced to that point where a decree has been agreed upon for the sale. The parties interested have come to an agreement upon the status of the liens, and all questions regarding them have been determined. The action was taken several weeks ago, but the matter has been kept as quiet as possible, the public knowing nothing of it until it leaked out a few days since. The road has not yet been advertised for sale, but it is understood that it will not be long until the proper publicity will be given the matter. In fact the order of sale is expected this week.

The sale is forced by the bondholders, who are represented by the Cleveland Title & Trust Co., whose attorneys are Squire, Sanders & Dempsey. They sent a man here to close the matter some time ago, but it was decided other work was yet to be done, and it was deferred. Interested parties now believe the order will come before the end of the week. It is generally understood the committee of bondholders, who came here from Portland last fall, reported the advisability of this move when they returned. No one ventures an opinion as to who will purchase the line when it is sold. The sale is to take place 60 days from the time of the order.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, FEB. 1

MAKE OUR PRIMARIES CLEAN. The conservative citizens of East Liverpool must see to this. The Australian ballot should control, as it prevents very much dirt and trickery.

Those Americans who have fondly believed the government would some day see the necessity of closer restrictions upon immigration, earnestly hope that the Lodge bill will find a place on the statute books. It is a restriction which restricts.

THE NEWS REVIEW is constantly increasing in circulation—voluntary subscriptions, as the manager of this paper does not believe in a forced circulation. The people admire a clean paper, giving all the news, and the reportorial force of this journal are indefatigable workers, with a keen nose for a good news item.

POWER OF THE CHURCH.

It is a mighty power for good. God has so ordained it. The church is the bulwark of the nations of the world—a fortification which cannot be destroyed or overcome. Those nations whose God is the Lord, whose Savior is the meek and lowly Nazarene, cannot be overcome or conquered. God will take care of His children.

COUNCILMEN.

Rumor has it that six new councilmen will be elected at the coming election, as a number of our solons have become tired of being abused and traduced, and will not submit to it. It is said that the tricksters and pot house politicians of the city have worked this abuse systematically, under the control of the whisky ring, which will attempt to nominate men who can be controlled by the power behind the throne—the liquor league. Turn on the light.

THE MINISTER.

There are ministers and ministers. The minister of the gospel who preaches Christ and Him crucified; who lives a clean and pure life and practices what he preaches; who takes a stand against the liquor traffic and brands it as one of the greatest foes of our holy Christianity; who aims to help the poor and aids the poor sinner up from the slough of sin and depravity; who has the Christ life cropping out of his every move and act; such a man is the true minister of God, deputy by the Master to aid in bringing the world to redemption—to eternal life, in the house not made with hands. God cares for and protects such ministers, and the redeemed men and women of the world learn to love him and look up to him with reverence.

SENATOR.

He should be a clean man, clean in life and character. He should be an intelligent, educated man. He should be a man of principle, a man beyond price. He should be a total abstainer, touching not, tasting not, handling not the unclean thing which has sapped the foundations of liberty of this nation and endangered the success of the Grand Old Republican party. He must not be a pot-house politician, looking to win success through the dollars and dimes of the whisky ring. The power of this accursed demon must be destroyed, or it will destroy the party with which it is associated. We have men of honor and true manhood now on the list in Columbiana county, and the voters of the county should do themselves proud in selecting the right man. We shall name him later on.

MADE HANNA ANGRY.

Kurtz's Statement About Sherman's Letter Warns Him Up.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—"Not only is it untrue, but I consider that anyone who would say such a thing had personally insulted me," where the emphatic words used by Chairman M. A. Hanna. On Friday a dispatch dated at Columbus, contained the following paragraph: "Chairman Charles L. Kurtz of the Republican state committee says he is reliably informed that Senator Sherman wrote the letter recommending Governor Bushnell to appoint Mr. Hanna only after he had been urged to do so by the Hanna men for several weeks and much against his own judgment and wishes. The report is corroborated by the fact that the report that such a letter had been written was first given to the public from Canton."

It was in answer to a question as to the truth of this report that is alleged to have emanated from the state chairman that Mr. Hanna used the emphatic words quoted at the beginning. "That is all I have to say about the matter," continued Mr. Hanna. "Such a statement made about me or about my friends is an insult to me, and can be considered as nothing less."

TREE FELL ON THE SHANTY.

Three Lumbermen Killed and Others Injured Near Jackson.

JACKSON, O., Feb. 1.—In Pike county, southwest from here, a gang of ten men on the farm of William Thomas were felling large trees for railway ties in a forest remote from houses. They had a shanty in which they slept and prepared their meals. While at the noon repast a tree fell nearly chopped through the shanty.

Fatally Frozen Greeting.

MECHANICSBURG, O., Feb. 1.—Ira Mumma, while putting up ice, fell into the water and was so badly frozen that he will probably die. He refused to go home at first, saying that he did not feel uncomfortable, but it soon became apparent that the man was freezing to death. He was taken home. It is thought that he was benumbed by the intense cold before falling into the water and was thus unconscious of any feeling of discomfort from his perilous bath.

No State House Work.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—The state house improvement will not go out; not for the present, at least. The governor has received communications from all over the state regarding the matter, and these and his own desire to proceed slowly have induced him to carefully weigh the question in his mind and arrive at this decision. He now comes out squarely and declares that the time is not opportune for proceeding with the work.

OPPOSED TO SUNDAY WORK.

Major McKinley Had Few Political Conferences Sunday.

CANTON, O., Feb. 1.—President-elect McKinley passed a restful day on Sunday. He deviated from his usual custom and did not go to church this morning. About noon he went to his mother's home and remained nearly all the afternoon. In the evening a few friends dropped in at his home and the time was occupied in pleasant talk, carrying with it none of the worry of political topics with which his time is so thoroughly occupied on week days. There were a few callers admitted, but there was little done in the way of politics. The politicians have come to understand pretty generally that Major McKinley is averse to Sunday conferences and few come on that day.

A TRAIN BLOWN UP.

Rebels Capture a Relief Train In Cuba.

15 SPANISH KILLED AND INJURED.

An American Named Burke Commanded the Cubans—His Compliments to Weyler—Rebel Leader Succeeded in Crossing the Trocha—A Daring Raid.

HAVANA, Feb. 1.—Despite rumors lately circulated here to the effect that the insurgents were completely demoralized and that the Cubans had broken into so large lands of 50 or so in the province of Pinar del Rio, news has been received that the insurgents have blown up a passenger train, causing much damage and considerable loss of life. Although the censor prohibited publication of the news in Havana it soon leaked out through the city, creating a sensation and the liveliest discussion in places where groups gather.

The train was one of General Weyler's supply trains and was dynamited on the railroad near Ciego, north of Cienfuegos. Two bombs were exploded under the engine and four under the train, being fired by electricity as the train was crossing a trestle. The engine was blown apart and all the cars were splintered. They rolled over the trestle into the ditch, the fall completing what the dynamite had left undone. Out of the guard of 100 soldiers on it 45 were instantly killed or terribly injured.

The others surrendered as a force of 200 Cubans appeared. The train was looted, the insurgents securing a small field piece that General Weyler had just ordered from Havana. After securing all the provisions and ammunition the cars were burned. The prisoners were released and the Cuban captain sent Weyler a box of sweet bread by a polite note. The captain of the Cuban band was an American named Burke, from Indiana.

The furnished condition of the people in Pinar del Rio section, and especially at Artemisa, San Cristobal and Pinar del Rio city, is well known. Hundreds of country people have fled to these cities, in obedience to the cruel orders of Colonels Hernandez, San Martin and Inclan.

Other reports from the province of Pinar del Rio announce that Mayra Rodriguez and 1,500 men succeeded in crossing the trocha and joining the insurgents in the province of Pinar del Rio. General Ruiz Rivera, it is asserted, also succeeded in passing the trocha, entering Havana province, and it is now claimed that he is in charge of the insurgent forces in this province. Since the death of General Aguirre the insurgents in Havana province have been without a real leader, though they have been provisionally commanded by Rafael Decadenas. It is now expected that an aggressive campaign will be carried on in the province of Havana by General Ruiz Rivera.

A few nights ago a large fire was observed to the east of Havana. So bright was the blaze that it attracted general attention. Being late at night the horizon in that vicinity seemed one continuous line of fire. Nothing was published about the matter the next day, but an investigation disclosed the fact that Aranguren had made another daring raid in the vicinity of Havana, burning and looting the town of Barrera, near Guanabacoa.

ENGLISHMEN BUYING PLANTS.

Investing Their Money In Breweries and Cincinnati Factories.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1.—Three representatives of a Gigantic London syndicate are in this city for the purpose of gobbling up all the biggest breweries here and success has so far crowned their efforts. They have purchased an option on 16 and the deal has progressed so far that most of the brewers have begun taking stock and summing up all the saloon chattel mortgages they hold for the purpose of knowing just how they stand. The deal will be closed during the coming week.

The amount to be paid for the lot aggregated $1,000,000. One-half will be paid in cash and the other half in preferred stock, with guaranteed interest, so that the present owners will have some voice in the future administration of affairs. The syndicate intends consolidating under the laws of the state and make them all one grand corporation. The older brewers were the most eager to make the sale, owing to the condition trade has been in generally for some time.

The deal has been under way with local brokers several months. One of these brokers was in London during the summer. It is stated that the syndicate also has options on the Fay-Egan woodworking machinery plant of this city, the Hoover, Owens & Rentschler engine works at Hamilton and other factories.

Heart Failure Superinduced by Acute Indigestion the Cause.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The death of George B. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, who died at 4:30 Saturday afternoon at his home in Bala, a suburb of this city, was caused by heart failure, which was superinduced by acute indigestion, aged 63 years. Mr. Roberts was first taken ill in August last, but there have been periods since that time during which he had been able to be about the house. He was forced to take to his bed about two months ago with catarrh of the stomach and grew steadily worse until the time of his death.

During the past two weeks his condition had become practically hopeless.

SEVEN LIVES LOST.

Two Incendiary Fires Occur at Hoboken, N. J.

MANY HAD NARROW ESCAPES.

A Number of Poor People Rendered Homeless—A Mother and Five Children Perish in One Fire and a Little Girl in the Other.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Two fires occurred in Hoboken, N. J., which resulted in the loss of seven lives. Many poor people were made homeless and even had narrow escapes for their lives. The fires occurred in different parts of the city, and one of them at least is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The first fire started in the three-story frame building at 410 Newark street. There a mother and five children lost their lives. At the other fire a little girl was burned to death. The dead are: Mrs. Nellie Schoeder, 40 years old, wife of Charles Schoeder. Her children, Henry, 11 years old; Kate, 9 years; Maggie, 7 years; John, 3 years; Willie, 3 months. Mabel Mangies. LONG AND WOODFORD.

Both Now Figure Very Strongly in Cabinet Talk.

CANTON, O., Feb. 1.—New York figures very prominently in the cabinet talk just now since Goff is no longer a quantity, and is considered almost as likely to furnish the attorney general as the secretary of the navy, if her people get near enough together to furnish anything. The old names suggested for the navy have been entirely cast aside, but of them Stewart L. Woodford is the most talked of, and is being boomed the hardest at present.

While it is not as yet definitely announced that ex-Governor Long of Massachusetts, is to be in the cabinet, the opinion continues to prevail that he will be, and that the announcement is withheld until New York matters are settled. If New York loses the navy Mr. Long will probably accept; if otherwise he may be postmaster general or attorney general or secretary of the interior. The same is true of General and whoever of her candidates may be chosen.

The opinion is still strong that Pennsylvania is not to be represented in the cabinet, but there are some who believe that Governor Hastings will be.

JOHN D. LONG.

postmaster general. A Pennsylvania in the city today stated that in anticipation of the resignation of Governor Hastings, Lieutenant Governor Lyon is already arranging his personal affairs to fill the chief executive chair. Those who know of this, the Pennsylvania said, think this is the direct result of Hastings going into the cabinet.

NOT EASILY MOVED.

True Story of What Was Needed to Get a Move on Mr. Blank.

A pretty girl living near New York is affected with a large number of would be beaux, but has no use for any of them. For one, in particular, she had less than no use.

He showed up one evening in a bicycle suit, and while he sat in the parlor with the pretty girl the pretty girl's little brother sewed the bicycle cap firmly down to the corner of the hall table and then dumped all the oil from the caller's bicycle lamp. But Mr. Blank never murmured while he picked the stitches from his cap as he said good night and walked the 2 1/2 miles home without a complaint.

Of course the pretty girl thought that Mr. Blank would never show up again and gave little brother half a dozen bear hugs as a reward for bonning him. But ten days later Mr. Blank appeared again as if nothing had happened, this time in evening dress with a silk hat. It was an awful hot night, but little brother was on deck just the same, and a thin slice of limburger cheese went under the lining of that hat before the evening was over.

Mr. Blank did not depart until 11:30 that evening, but nothing was ever heard of the cheese. This time the pretty girl and little brother made bets that Mr. Blank would never call again, but Mr. Blank did call again and with a smile on his innocent, round face. At about 9:30 little brother strolled into the parlor and walking up to the clock pushed the hands around a couple of hours ahead and strolled out again silently. Mr. Blank went early that evening and has not been back since.—New York Sun.

Crabs and Lobsters.

In selecting crustaceans the inexperienced housekeeper may be guided by a few easily remembered points. Lobsters that have not been long taken will respond to a pressure of the finger on their eyes with a strong motion of the claws. The heaviest are the best. The cook lobster, though generally smaller, has the higher flavor, the flesh is firmer, and its color, when boiled, is of a deeper red than that of similar characteristics in the hen. The male may be known by his narrow, rather tapering tail, and also from the condition of the two uppermost fins which compose it. These in his case are hard and stiff, while those of the hen are soft, and the tail fan is much broader.

The heaviest crabs are the best, and those of a medium size sweetest. If light, they are watery. When in perfect condition, the joints of the legs are stiff, and the body has an agreeable smell. The eyes, too, should look bright and firmly set. When they have a dead appearance and seem loose, the crab is stale.—New York Post.

Reserve Buds.

Every one has noticed how, when a large branch of a tree is cut off, small branches will shoot out around the stump. These branches are from the reserve buds, of which all trees have a great number at every portion of their surface. Under ordinary circumstances these never come to maturity, but when the tree is wounded or cut off or loses some of its branches the reserve buds at once come into play and rejoy the foliage of the Princess Elopes.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, FEB. 1.

MAKE OUR PRIMARIES CLEAN. The conservative citizens of East Liverpool must see to this. The Australian ballot must be used. It prevents very much dirt and trickery.

Those Americans who have fondly believed the government would some day see the necessity of closer restrictions upon immigration, earnestly hope that the Lodge bill will find a place on the statute books. It is a restriction which restricts.

THE NEWS REVIEW is constantly increasing in circulation—voluntary subscriptions, as the manager of this paper does not believe in a forced circulation. The people admire a clean paper, giving all the news, and the reportorial force of this journal are indefatigable workers, with a keen nose for a good news item.

POWER OF THE CHURCH.

It is a mighty power for good. God has so ordained it. The church is the bulwark of the nations of the world—a fortification which cannot be destroyed or overcome. Those nations whose God is the Lord, whose Savior is the meek and lowly Nazarene, cannot be overcome or conquered. God will take care of His children.

COUNCILMEN.

Rumor has it that six new councilmen will be elected at the coming election, as a number of our solons have become tired of being abused and traduced, and will not submit to it. It is said that the tricksters and pot house politicians of the city have worked this abuse systematically, under the control of the whisky ring, which will attempt to nominate men who can be controlled by the power behind the throne—the liquor league. Turn on the light.

THE MINISTER.

There are ministers and ministers. The minister of the gospel who preaches Christ and Him crucified; who lives a clean and pure life and practices what he preaches; who takes a stand against the liquor traffic and brands it as one of the greatest foes of our holy Christianity; who aims to help the poor and aids the poor sinner up from the slough of sin and depravity; who has the Christ life cropping out of his every move and act; such a man is the true minister of God, deputed by the Master to aid in bringing the world to redemption—to eternal life, in the house not made with hands. God cares for and protects such ministers, and the redeemed men and women of the world learn to love him and look up to him with reverence.

SENATOR.

He should be a clean man, clean in life and character. He should be an intelligent, educated man. He should be a man of principle, a man beyond price. He should be a total abstainer, touching not, tasting not, handling not the unclean thing which has sapped the foundations of liberty of this nation and endangered the success of the Grand Old Republican party. He must not be a pious fraud, looking to win success through the dollars and dimes of the whisky ring. The power of this accused demon must be destroyed, or it will destroy the party with which it is associated. We have men of honor and true manhood now on the list in Columbiana county, and the voters of the county should do themselves proud in selecting the right man. We shall name him later on.

MADE HANNA ANGRY.

Kurtz's Statement About Sherman's Letter Warns Him Up.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—"Not only is it untrue, but I consider that anyone who would say such a thing had personally insulted me," where the emphatic words used by Chairman M. A. Hanna on Friday a dispatch dated at Columbus, contained the following paragraph: "Chairman Charles L. Kurtz of the Republican state committee says he is reliably informed that Senator Sherman wrote the letter recommending Governor Bushnell to appoint Mr. Hanna only after he had been urged to do so by the Hanna men for several weeks and much against his own judgment and wishes. The report is corroborated by the fact that the report that such a letter had been written was first given to the public from Canton."

It was in answer to a question as to the truth of this report that the state chairman that Mr. Hanna used the emphatic words quoted at the beginning.

"That is all I have to say about the matter," continued Mr. Hanna. "Such a statement made about me or about my friends is an insult to me, and can be considered as nothing less."

TREE FELL ON THE SHANTY.

Three Lumbermen Killed and Others Injured Near Jackson.

JACKSON, O., Feb. 1.—In Pike county, southwest from here, a gang of ten men on the farm of William Thomas were felling large trees for railway ties in a forest remote from houses. They had a shanty in which they slept and prepared their meals. While at the noon repast a tree fell nearly chopped through the shanty.

Thomas Lohr, Evan Davis and William Bruck were killed and David Marsh and Frank Slade fatally injured. The other five men were more or less seriously injured.

Fatally Frozen Gathering.

MECHANISBURG, O., Feb. 1.—Ira Mumma, while putting up ice, fell into the water and was badly frozen that he will probably die. He refused to go home at first, saying that he did not feel uncomfortable, but it soon became apparent that the man was freezing to death.

He was taken home. It is thought that he was benumbed by the intense cold before falling into the water and was thus unconscious of any feeling of discomfort from his perilous bath.

No State House Work.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1.—The state house improvement will not go out; not for the present, at least. The governor has received communications from all over the state regarding the matter, and these and his own desire to proceed slowly have induced him to carefully weigh the question in his mind and arrive at this decision. He now comes out squarely and declares that the time is not opportune for proceeding with the work.

Chief Alderman Hurt.

MARIETTA, O., Feb. 1.—While the fire department of this city was engaged in extinguishing the flames in a small dwelling on Post street, the chief of the department, A. D. Alderman, fell a distance of 18 feet, as a result of a board giving way, sustaining serious injuries, breaking his left arm, serious bruise of the kneecap and an ugly flesh wound on his chin. The fire was extinguished with small loss.

OPPOSED TO SUNDAY WORK.

Major McKinley Had Few Political Conference Sunday.

CANTON, O., Feb. 1.—President-elect McKinley passed a restful day on Sunday. He devoted from his usual custom and did not go to church this morning. About noon he went to his mother's home and remained nearly all the afternoon. In the evening a few friends dropped in at his home and the time was occupied in pleasant talk, carrying with it none of the worry of political topics with which his time is so thoroughly occupied on week days.

There were a few callers admitted, but there was little done in the way of politics. The politicians have come to understand pretty generally that Major McKinley is averse to Sunday conferences and few come on that day.

A TRAIN BLOWN UP.

Rebels Capture a Relief Train In Cuba.

45 SPANISH KILLED AND INJURED.

An American Named Burke Commanded the Cubans—His Compliments to Weyler—Rebel Leader Succeeded In Crossing the Trocha—A Daring Raid.

HAVANA, Feb. 1.—Despite rumors lately circulated here to the effect that the insurgents were completely demoralized and that the Cubans had broken into so large lands of 50 or so in the province of Pinar del Rio, news has been received that the insurgents have blown up a passenger train, causing much damage and considerable loss of life. Although the censor prohibited publication of the news in Havana it soon leaked out through the city, creating a sensation and the liveliest discussion in places where groups gather.

The train was one of General Weyler's supply trains and was derailed on the railroad near Ciego, north of Cienfuegos. Two bombs were exploded under the engine and four under the train, being fired by electricity as the train was crossing a trestle. The engine was blown apart and all the cars were splintered. They rolled over the trestle into the ditch, the fall completing what the dynamite had left undone. Out of the guard of 100 soldiers on it 45 were instantly killed or terribly injured.

The others surrendered as a force of 200 Cubans appeared. The train was looted, the insurgents securing a small field piece that General Weyler had just ordered from Havana. After securing all the provisions and ammunition the cars were burned. The prisoners were released and the Cuban captain sent Weyler a box of sweet bread with a polite note. The captain of the Cuban band was an American named Burke, from Indiana.

The finished condition of the people in Pinar del Rio section, and especially at Artemisa, San Cristobal and Pinar del Rio city, is well known. Hundreds of country people have flocked to these cities, in obedience to the cruel orders of Colonels Hernandez, San Martin and Inclan.

Other reports from the province of Pinar del Rio announce that Mayra Rodriguez and 1,500 men succeeded in crossing the trocha and joining the insurgents in the province of Pinar del Rio. General Ruiz Rivera, it is asserted, also succeeded in passing the trocha, entering Havana province, and it is now claimed that he is in charge of the insurgent forces in this province. Since the death of General Aguirre the insurgents in Havana province have been without a real leader, though they have been provisionally commanded by Rafael Decardenas. It is now expected that an aggressive campaign will be carried on in the province of Havana by General Ruiz Rivera.

A few nights ago a large fire was observed to the east of Havana. So bright was the blaze that it attracted general attention. Being late at night the horizon in that vicinity seemed a continuous line of fire. Nothing was published about the matter the next day, but an investigation disclosed the fact that Arangueren had made another daring raid in the vicinity of Havana, burning and looting the town of Barrera, near Guanabacoa.

ENGLISHMEN BUYING PLANTS.

Investing Their Money In Breweries and Cincinnati Factories.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1.—Three representatives of a Gigantic London syndicate are in this city for the purpose of gobbling up all the biggest breweries here and success has so far crowned their efforts. They have purchased an option on 16 and the deal has progressed so far that most of the brewers have begun taking stock and summing up all the saloon chattel mortgages they hold for the purpose of knowing just how they stand. The deal will be closed during the coming week.

The amount to be paid for the lot aggregates $9,000,000. One-half will be paid in cash and the other half in preferred stock, with guaranteed interest, so that the present owners will have some voice in the future administration of affairs. The syndicate intends consolidating under the laws of the state and make them all one grand corporation. The older brewers were the most eager to make the sale, owing to the condition trade has been in generally for some time.

The deal has been under way with local brokers several months. One of these brokers was in London during the summer. It is stated that the syndicate also has options on the Pay-Egan woodworking machinery plant of this city, the Hoover, Owens & Rentschler engine works at Hamilton and other factories.

DEATH OF GEORGE B. ROBERTS.

Heart Failure Superinduced by Acute Indigestion the Cause.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The death of George B. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, who died at 4:30 Saturday afternoon at his home in Bala, a suburb of this city, was caused by heart failure, which was superinduced by acute indigestion, aged 63 years. Mr. Roberts was first taken ill in August last, but there have been periods since that time during which he has been able to be about the house. He was forced to take to his bed about two months ago with catarrh of the stomach and grew steadily worse until the time of his death.

During the past two weeks his condition had become practically hopeless.

GEORGE B. ROBERTS.

The attending physicians giving but little encouragement to his family, and was conscious until the last.

George B. Roberts' ancestors came to this country from Wales in 1855, buying the property at Bala, Montgomery county, which has since been the Roberts homestead. Mr. Roberts was born June 15, 1833.

In 1851 he entered the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad company as a roadman in the engineering corps. In 1869 he was promoted to the position of fourth vice president. When Colonel Thomas A. Scott succeeded Mr. Thompson as president of the company in 1874 Mr. Roberts was advanced to the post of first vice president. On Feb. 9, 1875, Mr. Roberts was elected secretary and treasurer of the West Jersey railroad, a position he held for nine years, and in 1876 became president.

When President Scott died, in May, 1880, Mr. Roberts was chosen to succeed him, and has been re-elected annually ever since.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The terms of office of 14 presidential postmasters scattered about the country expire during February. There are no large offices in the list. There are over 200 nominations of postmasters of the presidential class now pending in the senate. A large number of them will be left unacted upon by this congress, leaving the appointments to the next administration.

SEVEN LIVES LOST.

Two Incendiary Fires Occur at Hoboken, N. J.

MANY HAD NARROW ESCAPES.

A Number of Poor People Rendered Homeless—A Mother and Five Children Perish In One Fire and a Little Girl In the Other.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Two fires occurred in Hoboken, N. J., which resulted in the loss of seven lives. Many poor people were made homeless and even had narrow escapes for their lives. The fires occurred in different parts of the city, and one of them at least is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The first fire started in the three-story frame building at 410 Newark street. There a mother and five children lost their lives. At the other fire a little girl was burned to the death. The dead are:

Mrs. Nellie Schoeder, 40 years old, wife of Charles Schoeder.

Her children, Henry, 11 years old; Kate, 9 years; Maggie, 7 years; John, 3 years; Willie, 3 months.

Mabel Mangies.

The second fire was at 153 to 159 Fourteenth street. It was there little Mabel Mangies perished. Her sister Florence was seriously burned, but is expected to recover.

LONG AND WOODFORD.

Both Now Figure Very Strongly In Cabinet Talk.

CANTON, O., Feb. 1.—New York figures very prominently in the cabinet talk just now since Goff is no longer a quantity, and is considered almost as likely to furnish the attorney general as the secretary of the navy, if her people get near enough together to furnish anything. The old names suggested for the navy have been entirely cast aside, but of them Stewart L. Woodford is the most talked of, and is being boomed the hardest at present.

While it is not as yet definitely announced that ex-Governor Long of Massachusetts, is to be in the cabinet, the opinion continues to prevail that he will be, and that the announcement is withheld until New York matters are settled. If New York loses the navy Mr. Long will probably accept; if otherwise he may be postmaster general or attorney general or secretary of the interior. The same is true of California and whoever of her candidates may be chosen.

The opinion is still strong that Pennsylvania is not to be represented in the cabinet, but there are some who believe that Governor Hastings will be

NOT EASILY MOVED.

True Story of What Was Needed to Get a Move on Mr. Blank.

A pretty girl living near New York is affected with a large number of would be beaux, but has no use for any of them. For one, in particular, she had less than no use.

He showed up one evening in a bicycle suit, and while he sat in the parlor with the pretty girl the pretty girl's little brother sewed the bicycle cap firmly down to the corner of the hall table and then dumped all the oil from the caller's bicycle lamp. But Mr. Blank never murmured while he picked the stitches from his cap as he said good night and walked the 2 1/4 miles home without a complaint.

Of course the pretty girl thought that Mr. Blank would never show up again and gave little brother half a dozen bear hugs as a reward for bouncing him. But ten days later Mr. Blank appeared again as if nothing had happened, this time in evening dress with a silk hat. It was an awful hot night, but little brother was on deck just the same, and a thin slice of limburger cheese went under the lining of that hat before the evening was over.

Mr. Blank did not depart until 11:30 that evening, but nothing was ever heard of the cheese. This time the pretty girl and little brother made bets that Mr. Blank would never call again, but Mr. Blank did call again and with a smile on his innocent, round face. At about 9:30 little brother strolled into the parlor and walking up to the clock pushed the hands around a couple of hours ahead and strolled out again silently. Mr. Blank went early that evening and has not been back since.—New York Sun.

Lobsters that have not been long taken will respond to a pressure of the finger on their eyes with a strong motion of the claws. The heaviest are the best. The cook lobster, though generally smaller, has the higher flavor, the flesh is firmer, and its color, when boiled, is of a deeper red than that of similar characteristics in the hen. The male may be known by his narrow, rather tapering tail, and also from the condition of the two uppermost fins which compose it. These in his case are hard and stiff, while those of the hen are soft, and the tail fan is much broader.

The heaviest crabs are the best, and those of a medium size sweetest. If light, they are watery. When in perfect condition, the joints of the legs are stiff, and the body has an agreeable smell. The eyes, too, should look bright and firmly set. When they have a dead appearance and seem loose, the crab is stale.—New York Post.

Three United States War Vessels Damaged.

THE BROOKLYN STRUCK A ROCK.

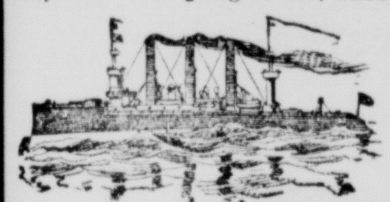

Only Her Airtight Compartments Kept Her From Sinking Near Philadelphia. The Marblehead Seriously Injured. The Alliance Went Ashore.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The United States cruiser Brooklyn, the latest pride of a peerless navy, calculated to withstand the fiercest onslaught of shot and shell, today lies almost utterly helpless because of a narrow ledge of sunken rock in the Delaware river above Marcus Hook, Pa., on which she struck heavily. Her lower double compartments, forward, were completely gone in, and it was only by the merest good fortune that the big vessel did not sink. This would undoubtedly have been the result had not her inner compartments successfully withstood the shock. As it was she was pulled clear of the rocks and is now tied to the big stone icebreakers at Marcus Hook protected from the heavy ice gorges in midriver.

The big vessel is seriously damaged, and it is impossible to say when she will be able to go into active service. At present she is in no danger of further damage, being fully protected in the safe anchorage afforded by the icebreakers. How the accident occurred can only be established by a court of inquiry and this Captain Cook, of the Brooklyn, has already asked for.

The exact place where the vessel struck was on Schooner ledge rock, between Chester and Marcus Hook. What makes the accident even more deplorable is the fact that this was the first time the ship has been handled by the present officers and crew since going into commission in the early part of December.

Since then she had been lying at League Island navy yard and certain small repairs had delayed her sailing. By the early part of the present month, however, all arrangements had been completed for her going to sea, when the cold snap set in and was followed by the piling up of ice in the river and particularly at the bend in the river, immediately below the navy yard, known as the Horseshoe. The city iceboat managed to keep the channel clear of ice, but on the sides it piles up from two to six feet.

The Brooklyn, lying at League Island with her prow facing westward, was hemmed in tight and fast by the freezing weather, and it was deemed advisable to postpone sailing until a clearer sea. This did not come, the cold weather continued and the ice began piling until it was believed that the position of the big boat was perilous. The ice was surging around and about her, and her officers felt that she must be moved or the heavy flocks would force her ashore. It was evident, by the tugging at her anchor chains, that a safer berth should be given her, and so it was decided to take her to Cramps, where one had been provided for her.

One of the city iceboats was brought into requisition and broke the ice around the ship, while four big tugs stood by ready to lend a hand to tow her to her destination. At the last moment it was seen that to go through the ice in the Horseshoe was fraught with great difficulty and perhaps danger. Then it was that Captain Cook asked the pilots, Captain Walls and Bennett, two of the most careful and experienced men on the river, if the ship could be taken down the river. They replied in the affirmative and said that safe anchorage could be obtained at Marcus Hook. The Brooklyn, under her own steam, got under way and kept straight on down the river, the iceboat breaking a way for her and two of the tugs following in her wake. Both pilots were on the cruiser, and she made her way easily enough through the masses of floating ice and following the ranges closely.

She had reached opposite and close to the schooner ledge, when the pilots sent her slightly to starboard, where they considered it better water. Almost instantly the vessel struck the rocks with a jar that shook her from stem to stern. For a moment all was confusion, but for a moment only; the next her cool-headed officers and men were at work.

The engines responded beautifully and she was quickly backed off. The quick settling of her prow showed that damage had resulted. A hasty examination, followed by a closer one, showed that her inner compartments were but slightly, if at all, damaged, and that the bulk of the injury had been done to the outer compartments, directly under the engines and fire rooms. At first many on board feared that the splendid ship would sink, but this fear was soon dispelled. The city ice boat and the tugs lent a hand, passed lines to the vessel and towed her to Marcus Hook, where she was made fast to the ice breaker.

It cannot be said, with justice, that any one was responsible for the accident. The judgment and experience of the best pilots on the river conducted the big ship down the river and dictated their course. The grounding of the vessel was a great surprise to them for both believed there was plenty of water and that they were not close to the ledge.

The Brooklyn is the latest and most modern pattern of an armored cruiser in the navy and was launched at Cramp's shipyard on Oct. 2. She is the only vessel in the navy having a complete electrical apparatus for moving her turrets. Her cost, exclusive of armament, was $2,986,000. Her battery consists of 8 8-inch breech-loading rifles of 35 caliber, 12 5-inch breech-loading rifles of the rapid fire type; 12 6-pounder rapid-fire guns; 4 1-pound rapid-fire guns and 4 machine guns.

THE MARBLEHEAD DAMAGED.

Sailing of the Vessel For Hampton Roads Today Delayed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Another of Uncle Sam's gunboats, the Marblehead, is in trouble. She has for some time been undergoing repairs at the Brooklyn navyyard and was to have left today for Hampton Roads to participate in the naval manoeuvres. It was reported that the big forward dynamo had broken down and that it would take three or four days to repair it. At the navyyard it was said there was something the matter with the dynamo, but that it did not amount to anything. The breaking down of this dynamo disarranges the operation of the entire electrical force of the ship. The electricity generated is used for the hoisting engine, the windlasses for taking in the anchors, illumination and the operation of the battery. Unless something else occurs it is expected that the Marblehead will be able to sail for Hampton Roads by Wednesday.

THE ALLIANCE GROUNDED.

United States Naval Training Ship Finally Floated Off Without Aid.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Word has reached Secretary Herbert that the United States vessel Alliance, used as a schoolship for naval apprentices, which went ashore Saturday night at Cape Henry, Va., succeeded in getting off and since has arrived at Newport News. Commandant Brown, at the Norfolk navyyard, sent the following telegram to the secretary in regard to the matter: "Alliance grounded at 10 o'clock Saturday night inside of Cape Henry. A wrecking tug was sent down and reached the Alliance at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. It was not known that the vessel ashore was the Alliance until midnight. Have information that she floated without assistance at 4 o'clock this morning and is unharmed."

The signal service observer at Cape Henry also reported that the vessel had gotten off safely and Captain Manney reported her arrival at Newport News.

NICARAGUA CANAL BILL.

It Will Be Further Discussed In the Senate This Week.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The week in the senate will open with further discussion of the Nicaragua canal bill. It is expected that this bill will be disposed of in some manner during the first half of the week. Senator Morgan, it was inferred, would ask the senate to sit tonight until a vote is secured. It is thought now that if he asks for a night session at all he will not do so until Tuesday. Whether he will succeed in securing it then will depend upon the zeal of those who favor the bill. It is admitted that a majority of the senate favor the bill and will vote for it if it comes to a vote, but whether they will voluntarily deprive themselves of a night's rest to insure its passage remains to be seen.

If the Nicaragua bill does not reach a vote by the middle of the week there will be great pressure to get up other measures. The bankruptcy bill has the advantage of having been made a special order and an effort will be made on this account to have it given right of way after the Nicaragua bill is disposed of.

Senator Lodge expects to secure consideration of the conference report on the immigration bill during the week. Senator Gibson will antagonize this report, and the friends of the bill count upon the necessity of spending considerable time on it.

The arbitration treaty will be reported at the first executive session, and an early day asked for its discussion. It is likely that it will come up for consideration during the week.

THE WEEK IN THE HOUSE.

Most of the Time Probably Will Be Devoted to Appropriation Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The time of the house this week probably will be devoted almost entirely to the consideration of appropriation bills, of which the consular and diplomatic and the District of Columbia are on the calendar. The fortifications and sundry civil also will be ready before the end of the week. The District of Columbia bill contains a large number of items of local importance to the district, which will cause considerable debate, but there is little in the diplomatic bill to create conflict.

It can be, however, and usually is, productive of more or less debate on our foreign relations. It is possible that an effort will be made in the house, as it was in the committee, to raise the salaries of the consuls below $2,500, which were placed under the protection of the civil service by Mr. Cleveland, to the latter figure in order to afford the incoming administration an opportunity to displace the existing officials. But if the attempt is made it probably will fail, as it did in committee.

It is possible that the rules committee may decide to give the house a chance to vote this week on the international monetary conference bill which passed the senate last Friday. The advocates of the polling bill also are pressing for its consideration and the petition presented to Speaker Reed for the consideration of public building bills remains as yet unacted upon. Any of these matters which have been held in abeyance may be brought up if time allows and the rules committee is willing.

THE ARBITRATION TREATY.

A Favorable Report to Be Made by the Senate in Executive Session.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Senate committee on foreign relations held a protracted meeting Saturday. It was decided by the committee, with practical unanimity, that Senator Sherman, the chairman of the committee, shall move for an executive session of the senate, and in executive session make a favorable report on the pending Anglo-American arbitration treaty, with amendments.

The amendments will emasculate the treaty of the umpire power of Great Britain's diplomat, King Oscar, of Sweden and Norway, and will also prevent the use of the treaty for the purpose of binding this country in questions affecting the foreign and domestic policy of this country; so that the Monroe doctrine may not be rendered nor a shadow of doubt cast upon it by the proposed treaty.

The chief also added, pensively, he did not see any necessity for a jail now, and dwelt longingly on the desire for the return of the halcyon days.

The comfort of patrons of the street car line is evidently a secondary matter with the company as they manifest utter indifference regarding it. As a result of a ride in a cold car a well known citizen was unable to speak above a whisper for a week. It is high time that some warmth was provided to keep passengers from freezing.

Three United States War Vessels Damaged.

THE BROOKLYN STRUCK A ROCK.

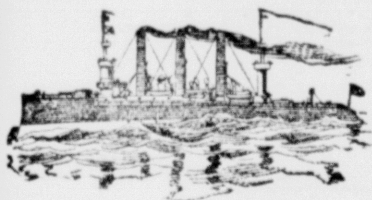

Only Her Aftmost Compartments Kept From Sinking Near Philadelphia. The Marblehead Seriously Injured. The Alliance Went Ashore.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—The United States cruiser Brooklyn, the latest pride of a peerless navy, calculated to withstand the fiercest onslaught of shot and shell, today lies almost utterly helpless because of a narrow ledge of sunken rock in the Delaware river above Marcus Hook, Pa., on which she struck heavily. Her lower double compartments, forward, were completely gone in, and it was only by the merest good fortune that the big vessel did not sink. This would undoubtedly have been the result had not her inner compartments successfully withstood the clear. As it was she was pulled clear of the rocks and is now tied to the big stone icebreakers at Marcus Hook protected from the heavy ice gorges in midriver.

The big vessel is seriously damaged, and it is impossible to say when she will be able to go into active service. At present she is in no danger of further damage, being fully protected in the safe anchorage afforded by the icebreakers. How the accident occurred can only be established by a court of inquiry and this Captain Cook, of the Brooklyn, has already asked for.

The exact place where the vessel struck was on Schooner ledge rock, between Chester and Marcus Hook. What makes the accident even more deplorable is the fact that this was the first time the ship has been handled by the present officers and crew since going into commission in the early part of December.

Since then she had been lying at League Island navy yard and certain small repairs had delayed her sailing. By the early part of the present month, however, all arrangements had been completed for her going to sea, when the cold snap set in and was followed by the piling up of ice in the river and particularly at the bend in the river, immediately below the navy yard, known as the Horseshoe. The city iceboat managed to keep the channel clear of ice, but on the sides it piles up from two to six feet.

The Brooklyn, lying at League Island with her prow facing westward, was hemmed in tight and fast by the freezing weather, and it was deemed advisable to postpone sailing until a clearer sea. This did not come, the cold weather continued, and the ice began to pile up until it was believed that the position of the big boat was perilous. The ice was surging around and about her, and her officers felt that she must be moved or the heavy flocks would force her ashore. It was evident, by the tugging at her anchor chains, that a safer berth should be given her, and so it was decided to take her to Cramps, where she had been provided for her.

One of the city iceboats was brought into requisition and broke the ice around the ship, while four big tugs stood by ready to lend a hand to tow her to her destination. At the last moment it was seen that to go through the ice in the Horseshoe was fraught with great difficulty and perhaps danger. Then it was that Captain Cook asked the pilots, Captain Walls and Bennett, two of the most careful and experienced men on the river, if the ship could be taken down the river. They replied in the affirmative and said that safe anchorage could be obtained at Marcus Hook. The Brooklyn, under her own steam, got under way and kept straight on down the river, the iceboat breaking a way for her and two of the tugs following in her wake. Both tugs were on the cruiser, and she made her way easily enough through the masses of floating ice and following the ranges closely.

She had reached opposite and close to the schooner ledge, when the pilots sent her slightly to starboard, where they considered it better water. Almost instantly the vessel struck the rocks with a jar that shook her from stem to stern. For a moment all was confusion, but for a moment only; the next her cool-headed officers and men were at work.

The engines responded beautifully and she was quickly backed off. The quick settling of her prow showed that damage had resulted. A hasty examination, followed by a closer one, showed that her inner compartments were not slightly, if at all damaged, and that the bulk of the injury had been done to the outer compartments, directly under the engines and fire rooms. At first many on board feared that the splendid ship would sink, but this fear was soon dispelled. The city ice boat and the tugs lent a hand, passed lines to the vessel and towed her to Marcus Hook, where she was made fast to the ice breaker.

It cannot be said, with justice, that any one was responsible for the accident. The judgment and experience of the best pilots on the river conducted the big ship down the river and dictated her course. The grounding of the vessel was a great surprise to them for both believed there was plenty of water and that they were not close to the ledge.

The Brooklyn is the latest and most modern pattern of an armored cruiser in the navy and was launched at Cramp's shipyard on Oct. 2. She is the only vessel in the navy having a complete electrical apparatus for moving her turrets. Her cost, exclusive of armament was $2,986,000. THE MARBLEHEAD DAMAGED.

Sailing of the Vessel For Hampton Roads Today Delayed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Another of Uncle Sam's gunboats, the Marblehead, is in trouble. She has for some time been undergoing repairs at the Brooklyn navy yard and was to have left today for Hampton Roads to participate in the naval maneuvers. It was reported that the big forward dynamo had broken down and that it would take three or four days to repair it. The breaking down of this dynamo disarranges the operation of the entire electrical force of the ship. The electricity generated is used for the hoisting engine, the windlasses for taking in the anchors, illumination and the operation of the battery. Unless something else occurs it is expected that the Marblehead will be able to sail for Hampton Roads by Wednesday.

IN BEHALF OF CUBA

Effort to Organize a Cuban League.

LETTERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED

From the President of the League—Want a Branch Formed Here—The Request, It Is Believed, Will Not Be Disregarded. Citizens Only Eligible.

An effort is being made to organize a branch of the Cuban league of the United States, in East Liverpool.

Prominent citizens have received communications from Ethan Allen, the president, urging them to aid in effecting an organization here. The call will undoubtedly not be in vain, as a healthy, practicable sentiment exists in the community in favor of any movement that has for its accomplishment the amelioration of oppressed Cuba.

The league was formed in New York last December, and now its membership extends over many states. Only citizens are eligible, and already many of the foremost celebrities of the land are numbered within its ranks. The expressed purpose of the organization is to secure to Cuba the inalienable right of self government.

Enclosed within the letters received in the city are instructions explaining the method of organization and a lengthy preamble, setting forth exhaustively the grievances atrocities perpetrated upon a down trodden people. The alacrity with which the citizens of this place responded to the appeal made by the Cuban emissary, a few weeks ago, prompts the belief that this second request will not be disregarded.

WELLSVILLE.

OPENED THE MEETINGS.

Evangelist Dumvill Preached a Good Sermon.

The revival services were formally opened in the Evangelical church last evening by William Dumvill, the boy preacher, and much interest is already manifested. He opened the meeting by asking the audience if they wanted a revival, and if they did want it to get right down to business, remove everything that would be a hindrance to them, and devote half an hour each day to honest, earnest prayer, and then success would attend their efforts. Rev. Isaac Naylor, the noted Yorkshire divine of the British Methodist church, will be here and occupy the pulpit on Thursday evening. Much good is expected to come of the services. Mr. Dumvill evidently means to have a good meeting. He believes in advertising. He says: "The devil is not backward in advertising his wares." He urged the Christians to do a little in that line themselves by using handbills, circulars, etc.

A PROMISING OUTLOOK

Predictions of a Well Known Manufacturing Potter.

POTTING INDUSTRY BRIGHTER

So Says J. H. Baum, of Wellsville—Dealers Agree on This Statement—By Fall It Is Believed Every Plant Will Be Running Full Handed.

J. H. Baum, owner of the Baum sanitary pottery in Wellsville, has just returned after an extended trip through the west. Mr. Baum is well known in pottery circles over the country, and is acquainted with every detail of the trade. To the NEWS REVIEW he talked as follows:

"You can quote me as saying a period of prosperity is in store for East Liverpool. Commencing next July a decided improvement will be noticeable in the potting industry. In the fall the various factories will be operated in full, and the majority of those out of employment now will have plenty to do then. With the restoration of confidence, orders will come in with a rush, and I believe the city will rise superior to former conditions.

"My opinion is based upon the sentiment expressed by leading crockery dealers who are almost a unit in declaring this result will follow."

"What is the outlook for the sanitary potteries?"

"Not as encouraging as that for the general ware plants. Until a building boom sweeps over the country, the sanitary trade will not experience much of an impetus. However, I believe it will not be very long until every branch of the ceramic industry will be operated in full."

HOW SHE HELD THE TRAIN.

A Woman's Strategy That Enabled Her Daughter to Go to Town.

"Before I came to this part of the country I was an engineer on a railroad down south," said a railway man. "We used to make a long run, and we were pretty slow about it. While on that line I had some very odd experiences. I remember one day, when we reached the junction station, a woman came up to me and asked me to hold the train for five minutes. She said that her daughter wanted to take the train to the city. I told her that it was impossible for me to hold the train for her."

"I don't see why," she expostulated. "I think you might do a little thing like that."

"I tried to explain to her that trains ran on schedule time, and, like time and tide, wait for no man, or woman either, for that matter. But she wouldn't have it, and finally, just as we were about to start, she shouted indignantly:

"Well, I'll just see about that."

"I laughed, but soon I ceased to laugh, for what did that old woman do but get right on the track about three feet in front of the engine. She sat herself there, firmly grasping hold of the rails with both hands. The conductor signaled for me to go ahead, as our stop was over. But I couldn't do it as long as she remained on the track, for I would kill her certainly. I called to the conductor, and he, impatient at the delay, came up. I explained the situation to him. He was as mad as I was and going up to the woman told her to get off the track.

"I just won't," she replied, "until my daughter gets on board your train."

"He pleaded with her some more and finally declared that he would be compelled to use force.

"Just you dare!" she cried. "I'll sue you for damages if you do."

"This opened a new complication, and we reasoned with ourselves whether we had better remove her by force. Just as we had determined upon a course of policy her daughter came up and seeing the old woman on the track kissed her goodby and got on the train, while her mother called to her:

"Go ahead, Mary Ann. You have plenty of time, though, for I will sit on the track until you get on board."

"And then, when Mary Ann was safely on board and we were about ready to run over the old woman, if necessary, she calmly and slowly got up and waved me a goodby, calling as we pulled out of the station:

"I hope I've taught you fellows a grain of perliteness."—Chicago Times-Herald.

HE MADE THE HORSE GO.

A Mild Mannered Man's Simple Method of Curing Balkiness.

At least 20 minutes had been expended in fruitless efforts to make the stubborn horse move. Hitched to a bulky delivery wagon, he stood directly in the pathway of traffic at the crowded corner of Sixth avenue and Fourteenth street. The animal was large, apparently well fed and not overworked. There were no evidences of disability. It was simply a case of balk.

The driver had exhausted his persuasive powers and sat quietly on his seat, the half dozen men who had been tugging at the wheels of the wagon had desisted from their ineffectual exertions, the knowing individual who sought to coax the animal with a whisper of hay had thrown down the untempting bait in disgust, and the daff fellow who essayed to twist the horse's tail had managed to get away without being kicked, when a mild mannered gentleman, silk hatted and kid gloved, came upon the scene.

Quietly pushing aside the impatient street car driver, who wanted to build a fire under the animal, the gentleman gently stroked the horse's neck with one gloved hand, while with the other he picked up the balked creature's right foot, bending it back and holding it firmly.

Nodding to the driver, he said, "Now go ahead."

The driver flourished his whip and said "G'lang!" The horse instinctively started, and, finding that its powers of locomotion were gone, became restive. The gentleman then released the imprisoned foot, which the animal immediately put into action by trotting rapidly down the street.

After brushing a few particles of dirt from his glove the mild mannered man passed on his way, and the congestion in the street enjoyed a speedy relief.—New York Times.

Trained Chameleons.

Much has been written about the beauty, the stupidity and the viciousness of the lizard tribe, and I want to say a word about the intelligence of the chameleon, a little reptile belonging to the great lizard family and in size the antipodes of the alligator, its big brother.

The incident I now relate came under my personal observation and demonstrates that the chameleon is susceptible of education and can be ranked with animals classed much higher in the scale of intellectual development.

Miss Henrietta Keene, a little lady of 12 years, living in Philadelphia, was presented with two Florida chameleons, and she at once began instructing and educating her pets. By continued gentleness and kindness she won their confidence, and at her call they would raise their heads, listen and then come running quickly. Soon they responded to their names—Brinton and Baby—and nodded their little heads knowingly.

She then taught them to stand up on their hind legs and put their little fore paws together and stand in the attitude of prayer, looking solemn and closing their eyes. At a signal they would quickly prostrate themselves, roll over on their backs and pretend to be dead, lying without motion until told to rise and embrace, which they would do with every sign of joy and pleasure.—Washington Star.

A Man's Knee.

At the reception given to Dr. John Watson in Syracuse two Scotchmen, in highland costume, presented themselves. As the day was cold, many of the other guests expressed the fear that they would suffer discomfort from their bare legs. Bearing this, one of the Scotchmen laughed and said: "Do you know that a man's knee is like a dog's nose? It is bound to be cold anyway. That is a fact, and swathing the knee in flannels and trousers doesn't make the body a bit warmer."

A Reflection on Her Age.

"That prim Miss Passay is mad enough to bite me."

"What's the matter?"

"Why, she has just joined the new society that believes that human impressions are mainly derived through the sense of smell."

"Well?"

"Well, I suggested that she was a scentenarian."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A PROMISING OUTLOOK

Predictions of a Well Known Manufacturing Potter.

POTTING INDUSTRY BRIGHTER

So Says J. H. Baum, of Wellsville—Dealers Agree on This Statement—By Fall It Is Believed Every Plant Will Be Running Full Handed.

J. H. Baum, owner of the Baum sanitary pottery in Wellsville, has just returned after an extended trip through the west. Mr. Baum is well known in pottery circles over the country, and is acquainted with every detail of the trade. To the News Review he talked as follows:

"You can quote me as saying a period of prosperity is in store for East Liverpool. Commencing next July a decided improvement will be noticeable in the pottting industry. In the fall the various factories will be operated in full, and the majority of those out of employment now will have plenty to do then. With the restoration of confidence, orders will come in with a rush, and I believe the city will rise superior to former conditions."

"My opinion is based upon the sentiment expressed by leading crockery dealers who are almost a unit in declaring this result will follow."

"What is the outlook for the sanitary potteries?"

"Not as encouraging as that for the general ware plants. Until a building boom sweeps over the country, the sanitary trade will not experience much of an impetus. However, I believe it will not be very long until every branch of the ceramic industry will be operated in full."

A Woman's Strategy That Enabled Her Daughter to Go to Town.

"Before I came to this part of the country I was an engineer on a railroad down south," said a railway man. "We used to make a long run, and we were pretty slow about it. While on that line I had some very odd experiences. I remember one day, when we reached the junction station, a woman came up to me and asked me to hold the train for five minutes. She said that her daughter wanted to take the train to the city. I told her that it was impossible for me to hold the train for her."

"I don't see why," she expostulated. "I think you might do a little thing like that."

"I tried to explain to her that trains ran on schedule time, and, like time and tide, wait for no man, or woman either, for that matter. But she wouldn't have it, and finally, just as we were about to start, she shouted indignantly: 'Well, I'll just see about that.'"

"I laughed, but soon I ceased to laugh, for what did that old woman do but get right on the track about three feet in front of the engine. She sat herself there, firmly grasping hold of the rails with both hands. The conductor signaled for me to go ahead, as our stop was over. But I couldn't do it as long as she remained on the track, for I would kill her certainly. I called to the conductor, and he, impatient at the delay, came up. He was as mad as I was and going up to the woman told her to get off the track."

"I just won't," she replied, 'until my daughter gets on board your train.' "He pleaded with her some more and finally declared that she would be compelled to use force."

"Just you dare!" she cried. "I'll sue you for damages if you do." "This opened a new complication, and we reasoned with ourselves whether we had better remove her by force. Just as we had determined upon a course of policy her daughter came up and seeing the old woman on the track kissed her goodby and got on the train, while her mother called to her: 'Go ahead, Mary Ann. You have plenty of time, though, for I will sit on the track until you get on board.'"

"And then, when Mary Ann was safely on board and we were about ready to run over the old woman, if necessary, she calmly and slowly got up and waved me a goodby, calling as we pulled out of the station: 'I hope I've taught you fellows a grain of perliteness.'"—Chicago Times-Herald.

London's Lady Mayoress.

Among the numerous privileges enjoyed by the lady mayoress of London during her husband's year of office is that of entree at court. That is to say, instead of being compelled to take her place among the ordinary guests, titled and untitled, at court functions she enters the palace by a separate entrance and is received by royalty before any of the other guests.

HE MADE THE HORSE GO.

A Mild Mannered Man's Simple Method of Curing Balkiness.

At least 20 minutes had been expended in fruitless efforts to make the stubborn horse move. Hitched to a bulky delivery wagon, he stood directly in the pathway of traffic at the crowded corner of Sixth avenue and Fourteenth street. The animal was large, apparently well fed and not overworked. There were no evidences of disability. It was simply a case of balk.

The driver had exhausted his persuasive powers and sat quietly on his seat, the half dozen men who had been tugging at the wheels of the wagon had desisted from their ineffectual exertions, the knowing individual who sought to coax the animal with a whip of hay had thrown down the untempting bait in disgust, and the dast fellow who essayed to twist the horse's tail had managed to get away without being kicked, when a mild mannered gentleman, silk hat and kid gloves, came upon the scene.

Quietly pushing aside the impatient street car driver, who wanted to build a fire under the animal, the gentleman gently stroked the horse's neck with one gloved hand, while with the other he picked up the balked creature's right foot, bending it back and holding it firmly.

Nodding to the driver, he said, "Now go ahead."

The driver flourished his whip and said "G'lang!" The horse instinctively started, and, finding that its powers of locomotion were gone, became restive. The gentleman then released the imprisoned foot, which the animal immediately put into action by trotting rapidly down the street.

After brushing the few particles of dirt from his glove the mild mannered man passed on his way, and the congestion in the street enjoyed a speedy relief. —New York Times.

Trained Chameleons.

Much has been written about the beauty, the stupidity and the viciousness of the lizard tribe, and I want to say a word about the intelligence of the chameleon, a little reptile belonging to the great lizard family and in size the antipodes of the alligator, its big brother.

The incident I now relate came under my personal observation and demonstrates that the chameleon is susceptible of education and can be ranked with animals classed much higher in the scale of intellectual development.

Miss Henrietta Keene, a little lady of 12 years, living in Philadelphia, was presented with two Florida chameleons, and she at once began instructing and educating her pets. By continued gentleness and kindness she won their confidence, and at her call they would raise their heads, listen and then come running quickly. Soon they responded to their names—Brinton and Baby—and nodded their little heads knowingly.

She then taught them to stand up on their hind legs and put their little fore paws together and stand in the attitude of prayer, looking solemn and closing their eyes. At a signal they would quickly prostrate themselves, roll over on their backs and pretend to be dead, lying without motion until told to rise and embrace, which they would do with every sign of joy and pleasure. —Washington Star.

A Man's Knee.

At the reception given to Dr. John Watson in Syracuse two Scotchmen, in highland costume, presented themselves. As the day was cold, many of the other guests expressed the fear that they would suffer discomfort from their bare legs. Hearing this, one of the Scotchmen laughed and said: "Do you know that a man's knee is like a dog's nose? It is bound to be cold anyway. That is a fact, and swathing the knee in flannels and trousers doesn't make the body a bit warmer."

A Reflection on Her Age.

"That prim Miss Passay is mad enough to bite me."

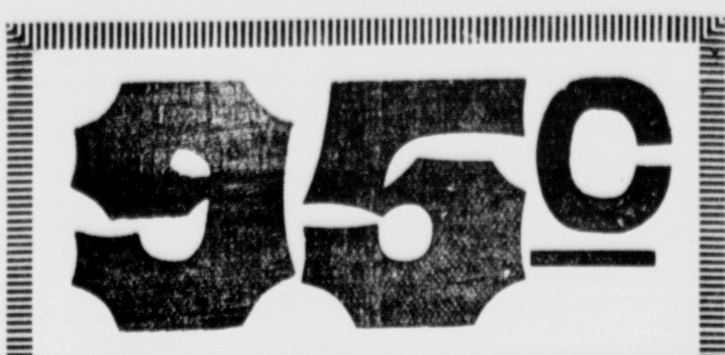

"What's the matter?"

"Why, she has just joined the new society that believes that human impressions are mainly derived through the sense of smell."

"Well, I suggested that she was a scentenarian." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Canary islands have a peculiar plant known as the fountain tree, which contains receptacles for the collection of rain. Several gallons of water are often found in one of these natural pitchers.

The mosquitoes found in swamps and damp woods are generally more brilliantly colored than those varieties which frequent human habitations.
